

FISCAL COURT IN FRIDAY MEET SETS LOCAL TAX RATES

Tax Rate For New Hospital Bonds Set At 12 Cts. Per $100

The Morgan Fiscal Court meeting in regular session last Friday set the local tax rates for 1970 taxes and approved payment of a number of bills. The Court reduced the county's general fund rate from 11 cents charged in 1969 to 9.5 cents this year, reduced the county school tax rate from 36.6 cents last year to 36 cents this year and reduced the county library tax from 5 cents last year to 4 cents this year, for a net reduction of 3.1 cents on the $100 of assessed evaluation.

The Court set the new hospital tax rate at 12 cents per $100 of assessed evaluation. This is a new tax authorized by a voted bond issue of $425,000 approved by voters at the November election in 1968 to pay the local share of constructing a new area hospital at West Liberty.

The 12 cent per $100 rate was computed on the basis of issuing 6% bonds payable over a period of 20 years.

At the time the bonds were voted it was proposed to amortize the bonds over a 40 year period, for which the rate was figured at 7.5 cents per $100 by C. E. Fogle of the bonding firm of Charles P. Hinch Company.

However, during the two years since the bonds were voted the bond market has changed radically due to the tight money policy and the increase of interest rates. Mr. Fogle at a recent meeting told the hospital board that 40-year bonds were not marketable on the present market, and he recommended the county issue 12-year bonds.

He said, however, that it may be possible to sell 20-year bonds, but it would be difficult on the present market.

The Court nevertheless proposes to offer the bonds on an amortization period of 20 years, and it is thought that they can be sold to banks. They will be tax free bonds. Thus, the 12% hospital rate will increase the local tax rate in Morgan county for 1970 from 58.6 cents last year (Continued on page four)

W. LIBERTY MAN IS SHOT TUESDAY NIGHT AT DITNEY

Byron Callahan, a resident of the Keeton Heights section of West Liberty, sustained wounds in his forehead and stomach from shotgun pellets Tuesday night in a shooting at Ditney Ridge.

Callahan told officers he was fired at by Larson McClurg of the Ditney Ridge section. The shooting, he said, took place at or near the home of his mother, Mrs. McKinley Callahan of the Ditney Ridge section.

A warrant charging malicious shooting and wounding was issued for McClurg Wednesday morning.

Three shotgun pellets struck Callahan, one in his forehead and two in his stomach.

FAMILY AWAY AS FIRE DAMAGES HOME TUESDAY

Fire believed to have been of incendiary origin damaged the home of Lawrence Lacy in the Cannel City section Tuesday morning while the Lacy family was visiting in Ohio.

Sheriff James Brooks was called to the blaze about 6 a.m. Tuesday. He and others got a hose and attached it to a deep water pump in the basement and extinguished the blaze, but not before it had burned into one bedroom and damaged one corner of the five-room building.

The sheriff said pipes leading into the house from an LP gas tank at the side of the building were burst, and that arson is suspected. He is continuing the investigation.

THREE CAUGHT IN MAGOFFIN WITH DRUGS

SALYERSVILLE, Ky. — A Magoffin County woman and two juveniles were arrested in Salyersville last week and charged with illegal possession of dangerous drugs.

The woman identified as Sue Oney, was released on $1,000 bond. The two juvenile girls were released to the custody of an unidentified person. All three were lodged temporarily in the county jail before being released.

The recovery of the drugs stemmed from initial questioning for reckless driving by City Patrolman Pat Montgomery, who stopped the vehicle the three were driving, after reports claimed they allegedly fired gun shots into another car carrying Montgomery County license. Both vehicles were stopped on Maple Street in the city before State Troopers Paul Maynard and Roger Castle were called to the scene.

A later check found a slug, which was fired from a .22 caliber gun, according to Trooper Maynard, in the taillight lens from the car at which the suspects were accused of shooting.

In searching for the gun, the officers discovered the drugs. The drugs were found scattered, apparently after the vehicle had been thrown in desperation causing the caps to open, behind the back seat of the convertible vehicle.

Analysis by a local pharmacist described the tablet and capsule form drugs as Adipatymed and Biphentamine T-20 capsules.

Building Contractor Gerald Tyree started work Tuesday on a two-story addition to the Wells Union Church on Wells Hill. According to Rev. Arnold Helton, pastor, the 16x50 ft. addition will contain three 14x16 ft. Sunday school rooms and a smaller pastor's study and office on the first floor and a full basement which will be utilized as a fellowship hall for youth meetings and other church events. The brick veneer addition, which is being constructed on the south side of the present building, will also contain two restrooms. The contractor also will install a new gas forced air heating system in the church and a new steeple will be added. Rev. Helton said the bell from the original Wells Union Church will be installed in the steeple. The additions and improvements will be completed by next spring and will cost an estimated $11,500, Rev. Helton said. The present church building overlooking Neal Valley was constructed about 12 years ago.

GATEWAY AREA SEEKS CONCESSION RIGHTS AT CAVE RUN RESERVOIR

Would Mean Jobs And Profit-Sharing For Area Counties

Perhaps the most comprehensive project ever considered by a non-profit organization in Eastern Kentucky and perhaps the state is in the making in the five-county Gateway Area Development District, comprised of Morgan, Bath, Rowan, Montgomery, and Menifee Counties.

First revealed at the Oct. 1 meeting of the Gateway area board of directors at Morehead, the multi-million dollar proposal calls for the formation of a regional recreation board which would submit a bid for concession rights at Cave Run Reservoir and if successful, construct and operate a huge recreational complex there.

Such a project would provide jobs for the unemployed of the area and could mean a sizeable source of revenue for the five counties, plus Fleming County, which has been invited to join Gateway Area.

Profits received from the project — estimated at around

$2 million after the first year of operation—would be distributed on an equally-sharing basis to the counties involved to better their own economies and to make needed civic improvements.

By 1974 approximately 11 million dollars will be needed to complete the first phase of the complex, planners say. And by 1980, approximately 59 million dollars will be needed. Financing would be through tax-free revenue bonds, along with grants from federal and state governments. There would be no cost to the counties involved, except in services by Gateway officials.

By 1980, planners say, a revenue of $2 million is possible with a net profit of $4.5 million for sharing by counties.

Morgan County and City of West Liberty officials in a meeting last Friday with Calvin Schneider, executive director of the Gateway Council, ratified the plan. According to reports, two other counties in the district also have approved the proposal. Watch for more details in this.

FREE RED CROSS FIRST AID COURSE DRAWS INTEREST! TO START OCT. 26

More than 75 are expected to enroll in a Red Cross first aid training class scheduled to begin at the West Liberty Elementary School Monday, Oct. 26.

The class, to be taught every Monday evening, will begin at 7 p.m. and last until 10 p.m., and will continue for approximately six weeks.

The course is offered free of charge to any interested person over 14 years of age, and anyone needing more information may contact Dan Lacy at Morgan Ambulance Service.

Red Cross certificates showing successful completion of the course will be given those who complete the training.

The two teachers from the Department of Safety will fly to West Liberty each Monday and will provide all necessary equipment and training materials.

A CHILD IN NEED — YOU CAN HELP

Someday, Rhonda Paige McKenzie will be attending college with some of your children and grandchildren, studying history, science, and health. She will be aware that she will have helped to rewrite the pages in medical textbooks. But for now she is a one year old little girl that needs your help and encouragement.

As most of you are aware, she was born with many marks against her, quite different from the rest of the many babies who laugh and smile. In Rhonda's case, she is one in 100,000 live births that is a victim of multiple birth defects.

Rhonda was born without a nose—only two tiny pinpoints not useful for breathing. Her eyes were located on the side of her head, too far apart for her to focus them and see. She has extra toes on her feet and one clubbed foot. It would seem impossible that Rhonda one day could become a little girl with a little girl face, but that is the hope of her family and physicians.

Rhonda is a precious sister to Robin, who is a third grader.

Robert Hutchinson represents Owens.

NEW SCOREBOARD ERECTED AT MCHS FOOTBALL FIELD

Morgan County High football fans will no longer have difficulty determining yardage gained by Blue Devil ball carriers, keeping track of downs, etc.

The high school has a new football scoreboard, donated by the Commercial Bank of West Liberty.

Mounted atop the old NYA Building at the west end of the high school athletic field, the handsome electric scoreboard is visible to fans from anywhere in the stands.

The recently-erected scoreboard was used for the first time at last Friday's Morgan County-Rowan County game. To express the appreciation of both the school and fans, bank president James R. Perry was presented a hand-made, solid silver mint julep cup at a special halftime ceremony. Winford Howard, president of the Morgan County Athletic Boosters Club, made the presentation.

The silver cup, a collector's item, is an exact copy of the original which was made in Kentucky in 1795 and was handmade by Mark J. Searce of Shelbyville.

Monitor To Drill 2nd Deep Well Near Moon In Morgan

LOCATION OF DEEP-TEST WELL is shown on this topographical map by star. It is on the farm of Fred Ison on the left fork of Dock Ison Creek about three-fourths of a mile northeast of Moon. The well will be drilled to the basement, estimated at about 9,500 feet.

ROTARY RIG TO BE MOVED IN BY OCTOBER 20TH

Monitor Petroleum Corporation of New York, after bringing in a good-producing oil and gas well in its deep test in eastern Elliott County, is having location made today (Thursday) for its second deep well in Eastern Kentucky — this one near Moon in northeast Morgan County.

E. V. Tredway Engineering Co. of West Liberty is scheduled to make location today for a 9,500 foot basement well to be drilled on the Fred Ison farm on the left fork of Dock Ison Creek, about three-fourths of a mile northeast of Moon. Hank Strickland, division engineer for Monitor, told this newspaper his company will move its rotary rig to Morgan by Oct. 20 to start drilling its second deep-test. He said they planned to go to the granite, and estimated the depth at around 9,500 feet in the Moon area.

Monitor's Elliott well, drilled on the Cecil Ison farm at the mouth of Ison Creek on Little Fork, struck basement at 9,600 feet, and is producing oil from the Rome at 7,900 feet and a big flow of gas from the St. Peter at 4,600 feet.

Halliburton Company fractured five "pay" zones for Monitor in the Elliott well, and the Baker Oil Tool Co. of West Virginia ran comprehensive tests on production. Tubing was run to the oil "pay" a few weeks ago, and it is now flowing about 85 barrels of oil a day into tanks erected near the well.

Gas production from the St. Peter was gauged at 50 million cubic feet a day open flow, and has been shut in. Strickland said the gas flow had rock pressure of 1,670 pounds per inch.

The Elliott deep-test was drilled on a farm-out agreement with Ashland Oil, Pennzoil and Sun Oil, each of which owns considerable acreage in leases in both Elliott and Morgan.

Monitor, since moving into Kentucky, acquired 11,400 acres of leases in western Lawrence County, and smaller blocks in Elliott.

3rd Well In Lawrence Planned

Strickland said Monitor would start a well to test its acreage in Lawrence "just as soon as we can find a rig and have it moved in." He said the Lawrence well probably will be drilled with a cable tool rig, indicating that it will not be drilled as deep as the Elliott and Morgan wells.

Though gas is in very short supply, production from the Elliott well cannot be marketed until a pipeline is built to it. Strickland said Ashland Oil will build a line to the field if a second producer is drilled.

Reports are heard unofficially that both Ashland and Sun plan to drill on their acreage near (Continued on page four)

STRIP-MINING COAL STARTED IN MORGAN BY FRANKFORT FIRM

8 To 11 Foot Coal Seam On Ridgetops Is Being Stripped

A coal stripping operation is being started in Morgan county by a Frankfort firm known as Mountain Strippers, Inc.

The firm has bought the coal on the land of the Henry L. Day heirs on the head of Laurel Fork about four miles from Crockett, and has built a road up the left fork of Laurel to take out coal from a thick seam near the top of the hill.

Long ridges in that area and on the head of Straight Creek adjoining are said to contain a seam of coal from 8 to 11 feet thick, all of it above 1,080 feet above sea level.

The Frankfort firm, which is controlled by the Beazach construction firm, also operates a strip mining operation in Martin county.

The firm has installed large scales at the mouth of the left fork of Laurel at the foot of the road leading up to the ridgetop, and is operating a bulldozer, a pan and power drills to uncover the coal at the top of the ridge.

Marketing of the coal has not yet started, but it is presumed it will be hauled down the new state road on Laurel to Ky. 172 (the Elkfork Road) and taken out over that highway.

Casey Helton Of Maytown Named To Phone Co. Board

John Oldfield, Jr. of Ezel was employed as Director of Public Affairs for Mountain Rural Telephone Co-op at a regular meeting of the co-op's board of directors Monday evening.

Mr. Oldfield, who has served as a member of the four-county co-op's board of directors for the past three years, resigned his board seat to accept the position. He assumed his duties as public affairs director Tuesday.

Casey Helton of Maytown has been appointed to succeed Mr. Oldfield as a member of the board.

The position of public affairs director for the co-op has been vacant since Bernard Hill, who formerly held the post, was employed as manager of the cooperative a few months ago.

Mountain Rural Telephone Cooperative provides telephone service to around 5,000 patrons in Morgan, Wolfe, Elliott, and Menifee Counties.

WOODSBEND MAN FIRES INTO CAR OF BOYS HARRASSING HIM; WOUNDS 2

Lonnie Dulin, 20, of West Liberty and Gary Vance, 19, of Little Caney sustained wounds from shotgun pellets in a shooting in the Woodsbend section Monday night.

Vance obtained a warrant charging Lonnie Spencer of Woodsbend with the shooting.

Spencer said the youths, accompanied by Mike Dulin and others were in a car and had "harrassed" him earlier that night, and that he warned them to stay away from his home. He said they returned a third time and threw a rock into a window of his home. It was at this point that he said he fired at them with a shotgun.

Vance was treated for pellet wounds and released. Dulin was more seriously hurt, and was removed to St. Claire Medical Center in Morehead where he is still a patient with shoulder and chest wounds.

This is National School Lunch Week and these students at Wrigley Elementary School pause to display the type of lunches served to Morgan County students through the School Lunch Program. All schools in the county have a hot lunch program and two—Ezel School and Wrigley Elementary—serve hot breakfasts. Well-rounded, nutritional lunches cost students 25 cents daily and hot breakfasts cost students only 5 cents daily. Mrs. Helen Pennington, county lunchroom supervisor, said 52,336 hot lunches and 8,056 breakfasts were served to Morgan students during August and September. Yet, large numbers of students do not take advantage of the lunch programs, she said. The lunch programs provide the minimum requirements for one-third of a child's daily nutritional needs, she said, at a minimum cost. Just compare school lunch with what your child can buy at the corner snack bar for the same price, she challenges.

BUSINESS HERE AND HEREABOUTS

RAISING CASH — American Electric Power Co., parent company of Kentucky Power Co., sold 4 million shares of its common stock Oct. 7 on the open market to pay for recent construction. At the going price of $24 to $25 a share, the sale of common stock brought in nearly $100 million.

COAL FOR OVER SEAS — As we have noted in recent weeks, one reason for the growing shortage of coal and consequent doubling of price of the fossil fuel is the huge shipments of high grade coking coal from Appalachia to Japan, which is seeking to double its steel production. Last year 37 million tons of Appalachian coal was bailed to seaports at Norfolk and Newport News, Va., for overseas shipment. And this year the overseas sales from one port alone (Hampton Roads) will be from 48 to 50 million tons, says the Virginia Ports Authority. This has doubled price of coal in most instances and has nearly tripled the price in some cases. And too, electric generating plants in America are down to critical short reserves of coal. Donald Cook, president of American Electric, recently sent letters to three high federal officials asking the administration to limit the shipment of coal overseas, or at least to set priorities that will guarantee ample supplies for electric generating plants in America. And the result back in the mountains of Appalachia is that a hurried scramble is underway to get out the coal and get in on the high prices. Strip mining operations are being started widespread in nearly every coal county. Another reason for the coal shortage is that electric companies are using more coal to generate more electricity which is needed to supply the extra load used by electric consumers.

TENNESSEE VALLEY AUTHORITY Chairman Aubrey Wagner, appearing before a House small business subcommittee in Washington, reiterated his contention that some large mine owners are deliberately keeping coal off the market to drive up prices. "Some have told us frankly they are holding their coal reserves for a higher profit margin," he said. Wagner also said the TVA, the nation's largest coal buyer, will have to pay $60 million more this year for the fuel because of high prices.

AT HYDEN, groundbreaking ceremonies were held for a new 45-bed hospital for the Frontier Nursing Service. The new facility will replace the original building built in 1928, is being financed by a $1.25 million grant from the Appalachian Regional Commission and more than $2 million raised by the Frontier Nursing Service.

EASTERN KENTUCKY UNIVERSITY sold $9,535,000 in revenue bonds at an average net interest of 7.33 per cent. Low bidder was Halsey Stewart, New York. The bonds, which will mature in the year 2002, will finance construction of a University Center and a classroom building, already under construction, and a service complex.

KENTUCKY'S share of the federal-aid highway bill passed by the Senate would be $58,526,000 for interstate road program in each of the fiscal years 1972 and 1973. According to the breakdown announced by Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., the state would also be eligible for $18,375,000 in each of the two years for primary and secondary roads and their urban extension. Additionally, Kentucky could receive $2,885,000 in 1972 and $3,462,000 in 1973 for a new system of urban highways authorized by the bill.

EARNINGS DROP — Reynolds Metals profit in the third quarter dropped 42.3% and Westinghouse Electric's profit dropped 25.6% in the same period. Westinghouse said its drop was due to a strike but Reynolds Metals (aluminum) said this drop was caused by the general business slowdown, particularly in construction and transportation.

ANOTHER BIG LOSS — United California Bank is having to divvy up 58% of $31.5 million loss which its new branch bank in Basal-

Switzerland lost when Swiss officers dealt in coca futures against regulation. The California bank had purchased 58% of the Swiss bank last year.

TV Anti-Smoking Ads — The Federal Communications Commission has been threatening to require TV stations to continue the anti-smoking spots after cigarette ads are banned on TV after January 1. But this week, the Wall Street Journal said FCC has concluded not to require the anti-smoking messages after cigarette ads are banned. "But FCC's announcement, expected soon, is expected to urge broadcasters to continue reporting on smoking-health developments," said the Journal.

SOCIAL SECURITY INCREASE — The House and Senate have passed different bills to increase Social Security payments next January. The house version provides for upping SS benefits 5% and the Senate's version provides for an increase of 10%. And committees from each branch have been named to make a compromise. Previous bills already had set Jan. 1, 1971 as the date for increasing payroll withdrawals from 3.8% to 5.2%. SS benefits already had been increased 15% last April.

26th Birthday Is Deadline For Draft

Eligibility for the draft expires with a registrant's 26th birthday. The Selective Service has told local draft boards. At 26 a local is too old for combat duty and drafting might only jeopardize his fellow soldiers, said Draft Director Curtis W. Tert. He said Congress in Selective Service legislation had picked 19 to 26 as the desirable age limit for military induction, with the exception of doctors whose training takes longer.

OBSERVATIONS AND PREDICTIONS

CAMPAIGN DINNERS — To raise funds for his campaign for Governor, Bert Combs and his running mate, Julian Carroll (for Lt. Governor) are holding two $20-a-plate dinners at Lexington and Gilbertsville and a $100-a-plate statewide dinner in Louisville on Nov. 23. Chairman for the Lexington dinner will be Fayette County Judge Robert Stephens and Prestonsburg Mayor, Dr. George Archer.

AGRONSKY TO KY. — Martin Agronsky, popular CBS television newscaster, will be featured speaker at this year's membership meeting of the Kentucky Rural Electric Cooperative Corp. in Louisville Oct. 19. His topic—"The United States and the World Crisis," Kentucky RECC General Mgr. J. K. Smith will make his final report. He has accepted the post of Governor of the National Rural Utilities Cooperative Finance Corp with headquarters in Washington.

WORTH NEWS SPACE — This paper has been chided for devoting so much news coverage to the deep-test oil-gas well in eastern Elliott county, drilled to the granite at 9,600 feet by Monitor Petroleum Corp. of New York. But the Elliott well is one of two deep wells that four giant corporations are cooperating in drilling to test the deeper structures in Elliott and Morgan counties for oil and gas. It is not a production well, strictly speaking, but a test well. And plenty of time has been taken to test all structures down to the basement rock. In addition to Monitor, Ashland Oil, Pennzoil and Sun Oil, a fifth big corporation was involved. The four cooperating companies permitted Columbia Gas to come in and make gravity tests in the deep hole. So we think that when five corporations join in an area test and spend approximately $450,000 to make the test that it is prime news. And the cooperating corporations hired Halliburton Co. to make the fractures and Baker Oil Tools, Inc. to make the tests, both tops in their field. What these tests reveal will have a big bearing on future drilling in a wide area of mid-East Kentucky.

BIGGEST TREE — The hunt for the State's biggest trees, conducted by the Division of Forestry, has turned up three new champions. One of them was on Grassy Lick Creek in Montgomery county—a sycamore that is 33 feet in circumference. The Division of Forestry says this is a national champion for that species of tree.

APPALACHIAN HOSPITAL 7 YEARS OLD — The Appalachian Regional Hospital system, observing its seventh birthday, was praised last week by board chairman Ray Cunningham as an example of what can be done "to solve a national crisis in health services." "He said" the system is demonstrating how health care services can be efficiently organized, developed and applied to meet the crisis in health care. The hospital system operates nine hospitals in Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia and treated 39,787 patients last year.

East Ky. Water And Sewer Plant Group To Meet Here Today

The East Kentucky Water and Sewer Plant Operators Association will meet in West Liberty at the Kennedy Library today (Thursday) at 11 a.m. to elect new officers for the coming year. Carl Littleton, Director of Utilities at Grayson, is president of the organization, which usually always holds its election meeting in West Liberty. The members, from towns throughout Eastern Kentucky, will have dinner later at Don's Restaurant. Arnold Helton, West Liberty Waterworks Director, is host for the meeting. Helton is a member of the board of directors of the State Water and Sewer Plant Operators Association.

LET A CHRISTMAS PORTRAIT BRING THE FAMILY TOGETHER DEC. 25TH

"No matter how far away different members of the family may be one of the quickest and most popular ways to bring them together is with a Christmas portrait," advises Dan Lacy of Lacy Photography Studio at West Liberty, Ky. Christmas is traditionally the time of year when the family gets together. But, in today's jet-travel age, and the constant moving of families for business changes, the old-fashioned get-together isn't always possible. Lacy, a member of the Professional Photographers of America, Inc. (PP of A), suggests doing the next best thing... getting as many family members together as possible, and having a portrait made for Christmas gift-giving. Such a gift can span time and space, and at least bring the family closer together in spirit. The family portrait should be

PRICE SUPPORTS FOR BURLEY WILL AVERAGE $68.60

Support prices by grades for the 1970 crop of burley tobacco have been announced by the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association, which administers the price support program for burley in Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Missouri.

The rates represent an average support level of $68.60 on the 1970 crop, with increases in individual grade prices ranging from $1 to $6 a hundred pounds. The support for 1970 is about 4.3 per cent higher than the 1969 support level of $65.80. The prices range from a high of $79 a hundred to a low of $40.

Nine grade categories have been eliminated in the 1970 list, including, under flyings, X3R, X4R and X5R; under lugs, C3R, C4R and C5R; and, under mixed grades, M3R, M4R and M5R. Five grades have been added, all under the mixed grade category: M1F, M2F, M3FR, M4FR and M5FR.

The Burley Co-Op noted that only the original producer is eligible to receive price support. Growers who have complied with their farm acreage allotments and who have not used pesticides containing DDT or TDE on their tobacco are eligible for supports.

Accidents were the leading cause of death of all Kentuckians under 35 in 1967.

TAX RATE . . .

to 67.5 cents, a net increase of 8.9 cents per $100 of assessed property.
The county's assessment of property for 1970 has been assessed nearly $5 million over 1969, and the various reductions in tax rates will not materially affect the net income for these funds.
Below is a comparison of this year's local tax rates with last year's—

	1969	1970
County Tax	11.0%	9.5%
Schools	36.0%	36.0%
Library	5.0%	4.0%
Health	3.0%	3.0%
Co. Agent	3.0%	3.0%
Hospital		12.0%
TOTAL local	58.6%	67.5%

In addition, the Fiscal Court set a rate of 53 cents per $100 evaluation of bank shares, 19 cents to go to the county general fund and 34 cents to the school fund.

A rate of 1 cent per $100 of evaluation of crude oil production in the county.

A rate of 2 cents per acre of land for fire protection.

A poll tax on all males over 21 years of age, to be divided as follows—$1 per poll to the county general fund and $2 per poll to the local school fund.

The Court also approved the county budget as posted on the front door of the court house, and approved the county school budget as submitted by Supt. Walton Jones.

PAYMENT OF BILLS

The Fiscal Court also approved the payment of county bills as follows—

Avrey Caskey, Cromwell Wright and Newt Cox, $15 a day for 7 days service on the County Board of Supervisors, one-half to be paid by the State, and one-half by county.

Austin Hill, $15 a day for 7 days working with the Board of Supervisors.

Trusty Service Station, $206.13 for gas, oil, etc.

Austin Hill, $100 from each of the following funds, health department, library and Extension Service, for making tax bills.

General Hardware $309.95 for air conditioner for county judge's office.

Austin Hill, $257.10 for pulling voter names from the voter list.

State tax rates remain the same, and they will work this way, based upon assessments as finally approved by the State Revenue Department—

1.5 cents per $100 on No. 30,801,327 valuation.

1.5 cents tax on Real Estate per $100 of evaluation on $30,801,327.

Real Estate — 1.5 cents per $100 on valuation of $30,801,327, for a gross of $4,620,000.
Tangibles — 15 cents per $100 on evaluation of $5,484,187 for a gross of $8,226.28.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of F. P. Bailey— It seems so long ago, Dear Dad, since you went away, although it's only been one year ago today (Oct. 1). It's so lonesome at home now. Daddy, with you not there. But I know you're in that home God went to prepare. I see the paths you've made, Dear Dad, and the work you've done by the score. It breaks my heart today, Dear Dad, to know you'll be here no more. I know I'll meet you some day, Dad, in that home above with our blessed Saviour and His precious love.

MORMON CHURCH MICROFILMING LOCAL GENAEOLOGICAL RECORDS

The Genealogical Society of the Church of Latter Day Saints (Mormons) of Salt Lake City, Utah has commenced microfilming Morgan county court records in the courthouse for use in its comprehensive genealogical program.

Don Hilt of Salt Lake City, a member of the church is doing the microfilming for Reproductions Systems, Inc. which has the contract to microfilm court records in a big part of the nation for the church.

Holt said he would microfilm Morgan county records of genealogical value up to the year 1900, and that the church would provide the county with a copy of the microfilms for storage outside the courthouse in case of a fire in the courthouse.

The church's copy of Morgan county records will become a part of the church's microfilm records from all over the nation and several European countries which the church is storing in vaults in a granite mountain in Utah. The vaults have approximately 700 feet of solid granite on top of them and are waterproof and bomb proof.

The church also keeps copies of all records in a downtown office in Salt Lake City, catalogued, for use by the public in tracing family genealogy, etc.

It is the plan of the church to gather and preserve copies of the world's genealogical information recorded through the ages in one central storage area where the copies will be safe from ravages of man and time.

ROWAN COUNTY BLISTERS MCHS; MAYSVILLE NEXT

Rowan County High School rolled its well-oiled Viking juggernaut into Morgan County last Friday night and sparked by standout junior quarterback Billy Fouch and pass receiver Steve Martin rolled out again with a 42-0 grid iron decision over a luckless Morgan High eleven.

Despite the score, however, it was an exciting, but for Morgan fans a frustrating, ball game. Though unable to stop the Vikings' powerful running and pinpoint passing, the underdog Blue Devils moved the ball well on numerous occasions and twice penetrated to the Viking 10-yard line. But on both of these drives, the Devils fumbled.

Chief ground gainers for the Blue Devils were fullback Mike Litteral, halfback Terry Risner, and quarterback Edsel Cline. Runs by these three sparked the Blue Devils' first sustained drive which started on their own 30 yard line and went to the Viking 10 in 12 plays.

The second long drive by the Blue Devils came early in the third period and carried from their own 15 yard line to the Rowan County 10 before a fumble lost them the football. Runs by Litteral, Risner, and Cline and a 20-yard pass play from Cline to end John Will Stacy highlighted the drive.

The Devils gained 100 yards rushing and picked up 14 first downs while Rowan gained 259 yards on the ground and Fouch connected on 17 of 23 passes for a sensational 233 yards and three touchdowns via the airways.

Outgunned on the front line, most of Morgan's tackling chores fell to the players in the secondary. And they had a very busy evening. One of the bright spots in the Devil defense came in the fourth period when Risner deflected a Rowan County pass in the end zone and Cline picked it off in midair and returned it 19 yards.

The Blue Devils journey to Mason County Friday for a game with Maysville, and will play their final home game Oct. 23 against Bath County. The Devils' record is now 3-4.

Mr. and Mrs. Autie Gibbs visited Friday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Morton Collins and Stanley.

ODDS AND ENDS

By Earl Kinner, Jr.

Shelby Kash of Frenchburg likes to recall the days back in the 30's when he played baseball for West Liberty in the old semi-pro Mountain League. He still gets a chuckle when he recalls the long-ago Sunday afternoon at Hazard when West Liberty had a good thing going for them but got beat anyway, and a certain West Liberty fan received a costly lesson in practical psychology. A lot of West Liberty fans lost a lot of bets on that game all because this fellow, who had a lot of money riding on the game but who probably had never heard the term "psychology," let the cat out of the bag and ruined the psychological advantage the West Liberty team had over the Hazard nine.

Playing on the West Liberty team at that time were two other players from Frenchburg—Mr. Kash's cousins, Kash and Charley Williams. Charley Williams and the late Ova O. Haney of West Liberty were the pitchers, both good. Mr. Kash recalls. However, Williams had recently pitched his second no-hit, no-run game and was a pitcher to be feared. Adding to his reputation throughout the league was the fact that he recently had been asked to try out with the Louisville Colonels.

As luck would have it, however, on the day of the Hazard game Williams had gone to Louisville to try out with the Colonels and Ova Haney was unable to make the trip to Hazard. The only other West Liberty player with a modicum of pitching experience was Kash Williams, who had a pretty good "round-house curve," but that was about all, according to Mr. Kash. The late Curt Mathis was catcher. Thus, when the game started, West Liberty's battery was listed as "Williams and Mathis." Not by accident, no one bothered to mention that pitcher Williams was Kash and not Charley.

And as Mr. Kash recalls, Kash Williams, with nothing but his slow curve and a not-too-hard-to-hit fast ball, completely "huffaloed" the Hazard batsmen for six innings. With West Liberty leading 4-0 at the top of the seventh, West Liberty fans, some of whom had a lot of bets riding on the game and were placing more as the game progressed, began getting louder and more excited with every Hazard batter that went down. It was at this point that the West Liberty fan mentioned above, who no doubt already was counting the long green he was planning on carrying home, taunted the dispirited Hazard players with, "Shucks, we didn't need Charley Williams anyway to beat you fellows!"

"You mean," somebody inquired, "that guy ain't Charley Williams?" Disaster! Mr. Kash, an outfielder, who hadn't had much to do up till then, suddenly became very, very busy. As he recalls, "When those Hazard boys found out that wasn't Charley Williams on the mound, they put near ran my legs off chasing fly balls."

And when the dust had cleared, the final score was Hazard 9 and West Liberty 4. The glum West Liberty players, who'd had a good thing going, and lost it, however derived some grim satisfaction at the high price the fan who let the cat out of the bag had to pay for his lesson in practical psychology. For as Mr. Kash recalls, in those days fans throughout the mountains always had a lot of bets riding on the outcome of the Sunday afternoon baseball game. "And this fellow lost a wad." Among the members of the West Liberty team on that Sunday afternoon at Hazard were Ed Mathis, Curt Mathis, and Ova O. Haney, among others. Some of these gentlemen, like the once-traditional Sunday afternoon baseball games along the semi-pro circuit, have passed from the scene.

This newspaper's extensive coverage of exploratory oil and gas operations in Morgan and neighboring counties and of other developments in the oil, gas, and coal industries has been the subject of a certain amount of ridicule from some sceptics. So be it. But landowners hereabouts who've kept themselves informed through The Courier of the current big and growing demand for all types of fossil fuels are going to be in a better position to bargain intelligently when the lease takers come calling.
